burn, I burn, I burn, I burn, I burn, my brain consumes to ashes; Each eye-ball too, like lightning flashes, like lightning flash-es. Within my breast, there glows a solid fire. Which in a thousand, thousand ages can't expire. Blow, blow, blow, blow, blow, the wind's great ruler, blow; Bring the Po and the Ganges hither, 'Tis sultry, sultry, sultry weather. Pour 'em all on my soul, It will hiss, it will hiss, it will hiss like a coal, But never, never be the cooler.

Slow Faster

Slow

'Twas pride hot as hell That first made me rebel, From love's awful throne, a cursed angel I fell. And mourn now the fate, Which myself did create; Fool, Sisters, whilst thus I wave my wand

John Eccles
Sisters, whilst I wave my wand, Charming the ground on which we stand; Invoke the spirit of this slain, His body to inform again. Some of Deucalion's seeds, some of Deucalion's seeds I've found, That raised mankind, that raised mankind when all was drowned.
