Paris 776, fol. 70r

Antiphon

The musical score consists of five staves of music in a single system. Each staff begins with a treble clef and a common time signature (C). The melody is written in a simple, rhythmic style with quarter and eighth notes, often grouped by beams. The lyrics are written below the notes, with hyphens indicating syllables that span across multiple notes. The text is: "E- go sum a- lpha et o pri- mus et no- - vi- ssi- mus i- ni- ci- um et fi- nis qui a- nte mu- ndi pri- nci- pi- um et in se- cu- lum se- cu- li vi- vo in ae- te- rnum ma- nus me- ae quae vos fe- ce- runt cla- vi- bus co-".
